STATE OF WISCONSIN, THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION. BY THE GOVERNOR.

Through the goodness of Almighty God, health, peace, prosperity, and abundance of provision have been vouchsafed to the people of Wisconsin in the past year, and our industries have received abundant rewards. Because of these benefits it is due us to reverently, and with sincere hearts return thanks to Him for His blessings.

Now, therefore, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, I, Jeremiah M. Lusk, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby appoint as a day of public thanksgiving and praise, and of reconsecration to the service of God, the people of the State shall assemble in their respective towns and cities, and for the innumerable blessings which have been vouchsafed unto them by the Supreme Ruler, and that they remember, by substantial benefactions and kindly deeds, the poor and afflicted among them.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, Done at the Capitol in Madison, this 23rd day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

J. M. LUSK,
By the Governor:
Eusebius G. Tamm, Secretary of State.

THE LAND OFFICE TROUBLE.

Land Commissioner Sparks has been notified by Secretary Lamar that the two cannot remain connected with the interior department. This means, of course, that Sparks must go. It is said by some republican papers that Sparks is a crank; and some of the democratic papers that he is right or wrong, enters the same opinion of Sparks. Whether this opinion is just to the land commissioner or not, the reader must judge from the facts in the case.

The interior office at Washington has never been free from blame in its rulings. Even when Mr. Schuyler was secretary, the railways and landgrabbers seemed to have the advantage in that department of the government. Here are some facts that may aid the reader in arriving at a fair conclusion in regard to the matter:

In 1873 the supreme court passed on a case in which the land office had actually paid out indemnity to the railroads, part of the Oregon Indian reservation in Kansas! The court held that those lands had never passed by the grant to the railroad company, but were reserved and exempted out of it, and that the patents had been wrongfully issued. Justice Davis had clearly and definitely said that the only purpose of the indemnity provision was to make good to the road losses which occurred "between the date of the grant and the location of the road." Hence, of course, compensation could not be allowed for lands specially reserved or disposed of by the government before the grant to the railroad was made. The subsequent suit of the Indians compelled an abandonment of the original provision, previously in the land office, and for a time the land-grant roads were not "described" for lands never included in the grants. The land ring, however, soon managed to secure corrupt department rulings, leading in and limiting the supreme court decision. As the court had before it only the Osgo Indian lands, the language used by the judges applied only to reservations, although, of course, the principle laid down covered preemptions and homestead entries as well. Nevertheless, money and means were found to reduce the corrupt roads in west, and while in dignity was not allowed where lands had been reserved by act of congress, it was awarded where they had been taken under government sale or preemption.

Well, in the attempt to follow the supreme court decision, Commissioner Sparks has had a good deal of trouble. He has been compelled to fight Mr. Cleveland as well as Secretary Lamar. Sparks seems to have been looking after the interests of settlers while Lamar has done the bidding of railroads and land-grabbers. Here are some more facts: Some months ago the secretary's wrath reached a dangerous point when Sparks appealed the Guilford Miller case to the president, and by dint of unanswerable argument compelled Mr. Cleveland to overrule both Garland and Lamar, and decide in favor of the settler and against the Northern Pacific land-grabbers. Ever since the relations between Sparks and Lamar have been greatly strained. A month ago, in the Omaha cases, Lamar overruled Sparks and set aside a decision under which several hundred thousand acres might have been rescued from the grabbing corporations having no title to them, and reserved for settlers. Instead of again appealing to the president Commissioner Sparks urged Lamar to reconsider and modify the decision. He pointed out the absurd and unjust features of the secretary's ruling, and the latter stung by an exposure which showed either his ignorance of the subject or a fixed sympathy in favor of spoliation of the public domain by railroad corporations, has turned and demanded the removal of Sparks from office.

These facts will give the public some pretty clear ideas concerning the relations between the land department and Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Lamar. The public generally will have sympathy with Sparks, notwithstanding his so-called "crankiness," which seems to be to keep land-grabbers and railway corporations from robbing actual settlers of the lands to which they are entitled.

A Washington dispatch states that Sparks will be forced to quit the office, and that when Lamar goes on the supreme bench, Mr. Vilas will take the department of the interior, and that General Bryant, of this state, now assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, will become land commissioner. It will be the impression of everybody who knows General Bryant that he will make a good commissioner. A reform policy is needed in the land office. It has been needed for years, and its need was never more apparent than now. A man who can work for the people and not for land jobbers, is the man the government needs for land commissioner.

STRANGE INCONSISTENCY.

The president of the local option and Sunday league in New York, has written a letter which he sends to all friends of temperance throughout the state:

"All friends of Local Option throughout the State of New York:

BROTHERS: The election is over and the results call upon us to "thank God and take courage," for everything really vital to our cause has been saved, as the party pledged to local option by counties has secured twenty-one of the thirty-three senators and twenty-two of the 128 assemblymen, making a clear majority of twenty-seven on joint ballot. Such a result under all the circumstances is wonderful. There was first the democratic party backed by the saloons, the personal liberty party with a corruption fund of $100,000, and the pro-slavery party, representing everywhere the past action and present position of the republican party, and yet the G.O.P., which saved the cause of liberty in '71, has saved the American Sabbath in '87, and offered to us local option by counties, which is the best thing possible in the present stage of the temperance reform.

But while this much has been secured our work is only begun, and we need organization in every town throughout the state, so that we may move in a solid phalanx on these two lines, local option by counties and the preservation of the American Sabbath. L. H. Kins.

This is a splendid letter. The friends of temperance will rejoice that local option, which is the best thing at hand, will be secured, and that the American Sabbath has been saved. One would suppose that the third party prohibitionists would rejoice over this magnificent victory, but they don't. In the New York election their voice tended to defeat both local option and the preservation of the Sabbath! Their voting shows a strange contrast with their profession. Had their votes lit where they wanted them to light, all the republican candidates would have been defeated, local option would have failed, the saloon men would have owned the legislature, and the Sabbath would have been given over to the liquor interests. Do the third party prohibitionists soberly consider these very solemn facts? All who would save our politics and society from falling under the domination of the whisky power should think of these things.

Regarding the New York city election, the Brooklyn Eagle, the chief democratic paper of that city, says: "It is the general belief in the metropolis that the eventual result of the election of Mr. Fellows will be the abandonment of further prosecutions of the defendants in the Broadway railroad suit. Those prosecutions never have been popular in New York city, and were due more to the demands of the press than to the desire of the people." In answer to this, the New York Post, megawump, says: "This is strictly true. There is a sneaking sympathy with all kinds of fraud and corruption in politics among a portion of the community, against which people who try to make the world a better place have to fight now-a-days, just as in times past they had to have to fight against violence and cruelty." Mr. Cleveland wedged Fellows elected so that the prosecution of the New York thieves would practically cease, for he wants the buckle element next year to help him in the campaign. That is why he wrote his letter to ex-Mayor Cooper urging democratic to vote for Fellows.

The arch-anarchist, Herr Moe, made a speech in New York on Sunday in which he said: "Grinnell, the perfurer, the thief, secured witnessess willing to swear away the lives of seven innocent men. Their blood cries to heaven for vengeance and it shall not be in vain. The day of reckoning is approaching. Let those who were interested in the arrests, the trial and hanging beware. That shall be paid. I point my finger at Gary, Bonfield, the judges of the supreme court, and that coward of a governor, Ogleby." He said a good many other things as threatening as these, and when the public reads them, they will be more than glad if five of his friends are when they will never throw another bomb nor incite another deadly riot.

From the Oshkosh Times, democratic: "There is not among the convicted anarchists or their anarchist sympathizers, one single sentiment of honor, of generosity, of human sympathy, of manliness. They are cowards and assassins." Yes, and like anarchists and infidels they died.

The first annual state convention of Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor will take place at Beloit on the 18th inst. There are between 5,000 and 6,000 members of these societies in this state. The convention will last three days.

It is said that Mrs. Story for ten years accompanied her husband daily to his Chicago Times office and assisted him in his work, missing only two days, in all that time.

For the good of the people, the late Mr. Ackroyd, of the firm of Ackroyd & Scott, has sold his interest in the firm to his son, Mr. E. C. Ackroyd, and the firm is now known as Ackroyd & Scott. The new firm is to be located in the same building, and the new address is 100 South Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Frank M. Taylor, the superintendent of the great ocean pier at Long Branch, carries a unique silk umbrella. The handle is topped with hammered gold from a five-dollar gold piece found on the beach last winter. The stick was cut from one of the leaves of an ebony tree which came over with the Puritans in the Mayflower. The ribs are covered with silver from the dress of a woman who was married to a sailor who had been captured by pirates and carried off to Africa.

SHE PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Emina Herman Brought Before the Court For Murder in the First Degree.

She Denies Her Guilt and Enters a Plea of Insanity—The Criminal Calendar.

The first business before Judge Ban' net this morning was the calling of the criminal calendar.

Emina Herman's case came at the head. When it was called the defendant was at once arraigned. The information contained two counts—one for murder in the first degree, the other for concealing the death of a child.

As District Attorney Malone arose the court became unusually still.

"Emina Herman," said the attorney "what say you? Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty," was the reply.

A moment later Attorney Nolan arose and announced that the defendant would plead insanity, and the plea was then entered. A special plea was therefore ordered so that the insanity issue could be tried first. T. S. Nolan was appointed as Miss Herman's attorney.

The criminal calendar will be brought up for trial Friday of next week.

The case of Collins against Muliney was argued this afternoon.

—A misstatement has just appeared in some newspapers, that there is a change in the editorship of the American magazine. No such change has been made or contemplated. The mistake has arisen from the fact that Julian Hawthorne Wyckoff is the editor of the magazine.

—One of the mail carriers last week made two thousand and three calls, leaving from one to ten letters at each place. But with all his calls he probably wasn't as tired as a certain young man on the west side was Saturday night after only one call. It seems that the west side young man held gherkins while the man he called on held acids.

—An attendance even larger than usual marked the services at St. Patrick's church yesterday. It was the first day of the "mission," conducted by three priests of the Order of the Holy Redemptorists, whose vocation it is to labor for the mortal, to the immortal. The reverend gentlemen conducting the mission are forcible and eloquent speakers, and their enthusiasm can hardly fail to be diffused throughout the church. During the week, masses will be celebrated at five and nine a.m., with sermon; and in the evening, at 7:30, rosary, sermon and benediction. Strangers will be made welcome.

—Five out of ten of the store doors on Milwaukee and Main street, said Marsh's Hogan in a Gazette reporter, "could be opened by a fairly expert thief inside of two minutes. With a fair man could pry open the door in a jiffy. Hardly any of these doors are so tight but what they will give enough at the hinges to let the lock slip out easily. And as for bolts, the way most of them are put on, with little half-inch screws, spoke them about as much good as so much string."

AMUSEMENTS.

RONALD REED.

It was a humbug and a very amusing "Humbug" at that that Janesville people saw for the first Sunday night.

The audience was a large one, and enjoyed the play thoroughly. Though the first act dragged a little at times, the last two kept those present in almost constant laughter, and the curtain fell on the third and last act of a success. This was due partly to Mr. Frederick Marsden's amusing farce comedy, but more to the efforts of that eminent comedian Mr. Ronald Reed, who has played the piece all over the country, and to the excellent company with which he is surrounded.

"Humbug" is one of Mr. Marsden's happiest productions. It gives abundant opportunity for excellent acting, not only by Mr. Reed himself, but by his entire company. And the company Saturday night improved this opportunity, drawing storms of applause.

The criminal calendar will be brought up for trial Friday of next week.

The case of Collins against Muliney was argued this afternoon.
